

ENCOMPASS™
FISHMEAL BY SCOULAR

Join our sustainability program

With Encompass fishmeal, we understand the importance of maintaining resilient ecosystems that produce safe, nutritious, and high-quality food and feed ingredients. Challenges in climate health, overfishing, ecosystem losses, and lack of transparency across the supply chain could lead to food supply disruptions in the future. Our sustainability strategy directly addresses the responsible product sourcing for marine products as well as the environmental, social, and economic considerations that marine products have on our planet, ecosystems, communities, and people.

As a producer in the Encompass Sustainability Program, you are part of Scoular's global offerings that help you:

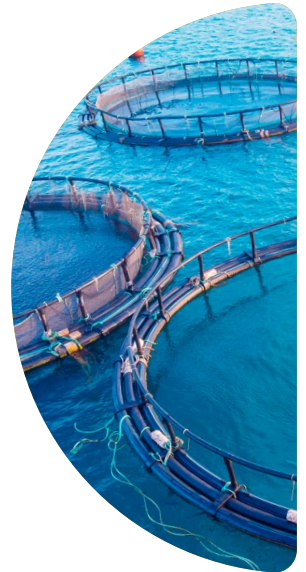

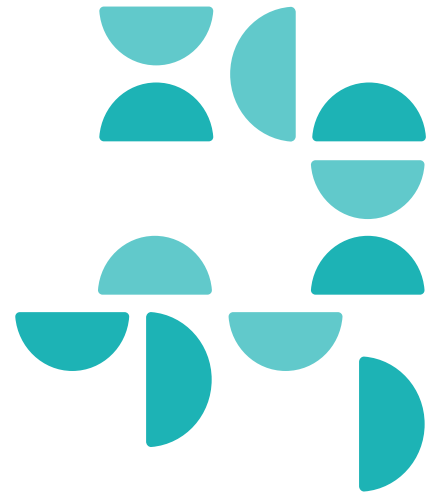

Compete in higher-valued, recognized markets

Become more sustainable

Increase your opportunity to sell ingredients further
