

Dried Whitefish

Elevate the nutritional value and functional benefits of your pet food formulation with Scoular's premium Dried Whitefish. Packed with 85%+ protein and essential nutrients, dried whitefish is a naturally preserved product made from food-grade fish. With lower ash content than market alternatives, promoting optimal digestive health, and inherent hypoallergenic properties for pets with sensitivities, this high-quality protein is a natural and palatable choice that will leave pets healthy and happy.

In addition, dried whitefish provides a viable solution to overcome current product restrictions, while positively highlighting the protein in end-product ingredient statements. Discover the difference Scoular's Dried Whitefish can make in a pet's overall well-being.
